Scott: i was wondering what you feel comfortable with in terms of describing my role at Project PM as I'm likely to include it in my resume.

me: anything you'd like me: you're essentially one of two top people who assist me in a variety of efforts

Scott: i would like to put something to the effect of founding member but that's not technically accurate me: so you can choose whatever title you like

Scott: thanks man

Scott: so you're cool if I say co-founding member and CIO (chief investment officer)

me: sure
